

sanctuary 2000

sanctuary 2000

sanctuary 2000 is a series of drawings and books by Dale Williams. The series is a response to the question of what it means to be a human being in the 21st century. The drawings and books are a series of explorations of the human condition in the 21st century. The series is a response to the question of what it means to be a human being in the 21st century. The drawings and books are a series of explorations of the human condition in the 21st century.

June 1, 1995 through June 25, 1996
sanctuary 2000 is a series of drawings and books by Dale Williams. The series is a response to the question of what it means to be a human being in the 21st century. The drawings and books are a series of explorations of the human condition in the 21st century.

KENTLER INTERNATIONAL DRAWING SPACE

353 Van Brunt Street
Brooklyn, NY

for appointments: (718) 375-2000 or (718) 455-7000

sanctuary 2000

a show of drawings and books by

Dale Williams

June 1, 1996 through June 28, 1996

KENTLER INTERNATIONAL DRAWING SPACE

353 Van Brunt Street
Brooklyn, NY

for appointment: (718) 875-2098 or (718) 499-7080

Sanctuary 2000 is a prescription for the future—to look deeply and honestly at our confusion, pain and ugliness, to look at our longing for fulfillment and joy, and there to find the mirror of life and to live by that light. No turning away from feeling, no self-alienating irony. Sanctuary can be wherever we look with compassion. Sanctuary is a street that covers the earth in a complex and circuitous path that passes through our very doors.

"Everything that lives is Holy," wrote William Blake, and "...we are put on earth a little space\that we may learn to bear the beams of love"—shining even through our sorrowful or numb faces: the potential ecstasy.

"Street"

"Now Your Name Is My Name"

"Bosnia-Hercegovina"

the single one triumphs not in the sanctuary of the street-

compassion is a shadow whose we are-ego's eyes are all puffy, pink and blue, teary, bruised-

devotion is all:

assessing the damage and blessing it-
hope and no hope are one coin-dedication to soul
in service with love

"Outskirts"